Clae pulls it together nicely for their Fall/Winter 2011 seasonal offerings. No stranger to the casual sneaker department, the collection is filled with great shoes for those wanting to take a step away from performance sneakers. New to this season are the Chambers, Mobley and the Wilder all anchored by the always popular Russel. The Chambers definitely stands out and looks to be a real winner for Clae this season. What do you guys think?

Take a look at the collection after the jump.
